

Global Camp Programming

Children with serious illnesses often miss out on the kinds of positive childhood experiences that support healthy development. Research has shown that even one high-quality camp experience can have lasting impact.

Camp creates positive childhood experiences that help counter the isolation, disruption, and stress that often come with serious illness. Your support helps remove physical, financial, and programmatic barriers that prevent many children from accessing and fully participating in camp.

WHERE YOUR SUPPORT is Needed

ü Camp Sessions

Free residential, family, and hospital-based programs ensure children and families can access camp across the Network, including those who cannot travel

ü The Camp Experience

Signature camp activities are essential to helping children build independence—often for the first time—through experiences like boating, fishing, ropes courses, and animal-assisted programming

ü Full Participation

Ongoing investment in adaptive equipment and accessible environments is essential to ensure every child can fully participate

ü Language Access

Translation, interpretation, and multilingual materials are essential to ensuring all children and families can fully participate

ü Getting to Camp

Free, medically safe transportation ensures children can attend camp, regardless of distance or circumstance

These areas provide clear opportunities to support camp, helping more children access and fully participate in the experience.
